Portraiture: The Invisible Relationship

Greg Miller

Nov 12 & 13

Using his enthusiastic and positive teaching method, Greg Miller will guide students towards a discovery of their unique personal vision in portraiture. Whatever your current degree of comfort with your subjects, you will be challenged to take your work to the next level by photographing strangers, or tackling the complications of photographing loved ones or long-term subjects.

After Dark: Night Photography

Rick Wright

Oct 3 - Oct 31

This is a course for action and immersion- students will be out in the field every week practicing the art of night photography! From the very first session, students will dispel several of the technical myths surrounding nighttime photography and get immediately acquainted with a strong foundation in how the camera can best capture low light images. When dusk descends and night begins, the world changes in front of the lens and grand, magical, potent worlds emerge.
